Come, share in the warmth and friendliness of our community during the Downtown Open House from Friday, December 1 through December 3. Stop in businesses for wassail, hot coffee and cookies. Spend some pressure-free time exploring gift-giving ideas. You may even catch a glimpse of Santa! Enjoy parking for free or ride the City bus at a special 25¢ fare during December (some downtown merchants will even pay for your return trip home--look for posters at participating businesses).

Children can take in Holiday Story-telling at the Astor Public Library (450 10th St.) on Saturdays, December 2, 9, 16 and 23 from 11 a.m. to 12 noon. How about treating your kids to Breakfast with Santa? American celebrations are varied, colorful

By The Associated Press

The annual Chorus Tree celebration at the South Street Seaport in New York City has become a holiday fixture in the Wall Street area since its start five years ago.

Twice a day during long holiday weekends, an cappella chorus of 25 to 50 singers ascends a graded steel platform in the center of Market Square to form a living tree, singing Christmas carols, Hanukkah songs and sing-along favorites. The "tree" is outlined in fir trees with twinkling lights, and additional color is supplied by the red and green robes worn by the choristers.

The choruses perform two 30-minute shows beginning the Friday after Thanksgiving and continuing every Thursday through Sunday, with additional shows Christmas week. The free concerts are at 6:45 p.m. and 7:45 p.m. on Thursdays and Fridays and 3 p.m. and 4 p.m. on Saturdays and Sundays. - The Creole Christmas is part of the New Orleans holiday scene, with tours of antebellum homes, candlelight caroling in Jackson Square, Creole cooking demonstrations, gingerbread house exhibits, rides on the riverfront streetcar, and performances of "The Nutcracker Suite" and the "Messiah."

Visitors also can book motorcoach tours to see the levee bonfires along the Mississippi. —

Christmas in Savannah includes tours of historic homes, a Jingle Bells Ball and other traditional old world amenities. The Mulberry, a historic inn located within the National Historic Landmark District, offers a special "Please Come Home for Christmas" package that includes a walking tour of the district, followed by the Smoking Bishops and Yule Log Ceremony led by the Madrigal Singers. —

The Welcombe Hotel in Stratford-upon-Avon, England, offers a traditional English Christmas, including mince pie after midnight Mass, a visit from Father Christmas and Boxing Day festivities. —

Classic Tours International, of Chicago, is organizing a "Charles Dickens Christmas" visit to the cities, houses and pubs behind the author's works. The Dec. 18-27 itinerary will follow Dickens' life, his favorite haunts in London, Rochester-upon-Medway and Stratford-upon-Avon. —

A Christmas tour of Finnish

Lapland promises tree decorating, visits from Santa, music and dance, a banquet, saunas and reindeer-drawn sleigh rides. And if you can't make the "Christmas in Rovaniemi" tour, you can still write to Santa at Arctic Circle 96930, Rovaniemi, Finland. He answers in six languages and includes a game or puzzle to tell children about Santa and Finnish Lapland. Contact the Finnish Tourist Board or your travel agent. —

For $5,800, you can enjoy New Year's in Vienna. The Annemarie Victory tour includes a round-trip Concorde flight, the New Year's Eve Ball at the Imperial Palace, tickets to "Die Fledermaus" and performances by the Vienna Boys Choir and the Lippizaner horses. —

Hawaii is not the place ordinarily associated with Christmas, but the Hyatt Regency Waikoloa hotel is planning to line a mile of mirrored promenades with trees adorned by 40,000 white lights — and Hawaiian ornaments. —

George Vanderbilt first opened Biltmore House, the grand 250-room French Renaissance chateau in Asheville, N.C., on the night of Dec. 24, 1895. That began a tradition that remains today, with the house open for candlelight evenings on Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights from Nov. 27 through Dec. 31.

The candlelight visits, by reservation only, are at 6:30 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. and include continuous musical performances.

— For those who like modern entertainment, Kutsher's, the Catskills resort in Monticello, N.Y., has comedian Joy Bejar and singer Cling Holmes headlining during the Thanksgiving weekend, and comedian Jerry Seinfeld for the Christmas weekend. Kutshermania III, a wrestling show, takes place the afternoon of Dec. 27, and singer LaToya Jackson wraps up the season on New Year's Eve. —

And for those on the road for business during the holiday season, Residence Inn plans to literally deck the halls with boughs of holly, along with other traditional treats.

Many of the 146 Marriott-owned inns, which cater to extended-stay business travelers, will hold tree-trimming parties, show traditional holiday movies and some will arrange caroling for guests and staff at local nursing homes or in nearby neighborhoods.

Unusual ideas for unusual gift-giving

By The Associated Press

Gift-giving, for better or worse, has come a long way since the choice was frankincense and myrrh.

If incense isn't on your list this year, or if frankincense and myrrh are too tough to find, consider some of these unusual ideas:

— Is your car on your gift list? From the people who gave you automotive sunshades comes Sno-Off, to protect a car's windshield from snow, ice and frost.

The cover, with a ski-goggle design, fits across the outside of the windshield and secures inside with two suction cups. Auto-Shade manufacturers say it will sell for about $5.

— Elegant Lasso. A new variation on a classic is the Lariat, a strand of pearls with chandelier crystals at both ends that tie instead of clasp. From the Swarovski Signature Collection, the Lariat was inspired by western neckwear and comes with a tag-booklet to show different ways to wear it — over the shoulder for low-backed evening wear, the traditional front knot, around the waist, or in a double strand. The necklace retails for about $500, and matching drop earrings are about $135 at department and specialty stores. —

— You won't have to go far to enjoy holiday lights and music: you can wear them.

Bonnie Boerer's holiday fashions include a decorated blouse that plays "Santa Claus Is Coming to Town" for Christmas and a similar sweater that plays "Auld Lang Syne" for New Year's.

The battery-powered show is operated by a switch hidden underneath the sweater. About $160. —

— When asked "what's your sign," you won't have to know the zodiac to answer.

A company called What's Your Sign, in Northfield, Ill., will custom imprint a metal street sign with anything you want, up to 11 characters, plus any abbreviation such as St., Dr. or Rd. —

— If you suspect a Merlin on your list, he'll probably like "White Lightning," a grownups' toy that makes real lightning, enclosed under a glass dome. Controls let the mover and shaker form one or two streaks of lightning or a mini-storm with hundreds of separate bolts. Created by neon artist Larry Albright and made by Rabbit Systems, Inc., this conversation-stopper costs about $150 at department and specialty stores. —

— A novel solution to the toilet seat battle of the sexes: LidAlert. It plays "Twinkle, Twinkle, Little Star" if the seat is left up after flushing. Its manufacturer, Kaleidoscope, Huntington Beach, Calif., says it will be priced at about $20. —

— For the person in your life who has everything, what's left but the world? You can have the world in your hands — if you have Atlas' hands and can afford to spend at least $36,250.

Rand McNally Map and Travel Stores offer a custom-made globe that weighs more than 500 pounds, with a 325-motor and axis that turns it one full revolution every three minutes. Hand-laminated in fiberglass and epoxy, it's 6 feet in diameter. —

— "Class in a Glass," for those who have run dry on unusual gift ideas, is a water-of-the-month club offering subscribers mail order gift packs of bottled waters from around the world. From the Water Centre, Edison, N.J. —

— For those who like their books

read to them: Random House Audio books on tape, including "My Turn," read by author Nancy Reagan, and "It Was On Fire When I Lay Down On It," read by its author, Robert Fulghum. —

— For hair on the go: Jetsetter hair rollers from Helen of Troy Corp., a five-roller set, with cord and clip storage in a zippered travel bag. About $25. —

— Diamonds, of course, still fit nicely into holiday stockings.

A new "garden" variety is popular this season, according to Lloyd Jaffe, chairman of the American Diamond Industry Association. He says the "fire rose," "sunflower," "dahlia" and "marigold" are new cuts that may be seen on engagement rings.

— A pocket-sized diary from Per Annum Inc. is also a city guide, calendar and reference booklet. Guides to Denver, Miami, Chicago, New York (Manhattan), Los Angeles and Boston are in separate diaries and there is a 14-city Metropolitan City Diary.

Each of the datebooks includes maps and listings for restaurants, stores and hotels, along with weekly and yearly calendars and a forward planner.

Games and gifts to please

Stocking stuffers for the whole family

By The Associated Press

There are some gifts you can buy for the whole family, including yourself:

— Indoor Birdwatching. "Gone Birding" is a combination board-video game that will help develop bird identification skills for family members of all ages. Actress Jane Alexander narrates the video, which features British comedian-birdwatcher Bill Oddie and author Peter Alden, shown taking nature expeditions across North America. Uncaptioned shots of birds in their natural settings challenge players' bird knowledge, with a handicapping system for older, more experienced members of the family. The game is from Rupicola in a two-hour VHS tape (or Beta by special order) and costs about $80.

— U.S.A. Trivia. What are Abraham Lincoln's hands doing in the famous statue of him in the Lincoln Memorial? And what mineral is mined 1,000 feet below the city of Detroit? These are sample posers from the "U.S.A. Trivia" game from the Games Gang, the makers of the top-selling "Pictionary" game. The company also is putting out a second edition of "Pictionary," along with a number of spinoffs, including an edition for kids and a portable version for parties. Prices range from about $19 to $35. (Answers to trivia questions: Lincoln is spelling his initials, "A" and "L" in sign language, and Detroit deep-mines salt.)

— Sharp Colors. Festive colors have come to, of all things, the disposable razor. Wilkinson Sword's "Colours" packages contain razors in white, yellow, blue, red, and green. Each comes with a reusable snap-on blade guard. The practical side of the bright colors is that family members can identify their own in the bathroom cabinet, or the individual user can keep track of which ones he's used before. Retail prices are 79 cents for five-packs and $1.19 for ten-packs.

— Little Big Horn. Tiny speakers from Memorex can transform any personal radiocassette player into a mini-stereo system. Called Color Mates, they come in bright colors and plug into the earphone jack for external sound. Or, if you still prefer earphones, you can get Colorphones, also in bright colors. The speakers are about $10 a pair, and the earphones are about $6.

— Ethel M Chocolates' holiday gift guide includes chocolate goodies packaged in everything from teddy bears to mugs, dishes, trays and tins. To get a catalog or place an order, call 1-800 6-ETHEL-M.

— From Random House, the "Octopus" game, in which players join Velcro-wrapped wrists, ankles and heads and twist and turn as they entangle; "Luminations," an electronic pyramid of lights that can be illuminated in seven ways; "Backwords," in which players compete to guess a word that has been read backward, and "Quizzard," an electronic question-and-answer game.

— "One Tough Puzzle," by the Great American Puzzle Factory, is an all-red jigsaw without a picture and without a straight edge.

— The Milton Bradley Co. introduces "Trump the Game," a board game in which players bid for real estate; "Scattergories," in which players come up with topic words that begin with the same letter, and "I.D.

— The Identity Game," in which players have to guess your personality card.

— The "World of Golf" is the 1990 special limited edition calendar being offered by the National Multiple Sclerosis Society for holiday giving. Created by Mercedes-Benz of North America, the calendar features vivid photos, paintings and imaginative graphics relating to the 500-year-old game. Proceeds from calendar sales go to services and research for multiple sclerosis. It can be ordered with credit card by calling 1-800-666-PUTT or by sending a $35 check to the National Multiple Sclerosis Society at 205 East 42nd St., New York, N.Y. 10017.

— The Kodak Stretch 35 is a disposable panoramic camera that produces 3½-by-10-inch color prints. The camera, which sells for about $13, comes already loaded with a 12-exposure roll of 35mm Kodacolor Gold 200 film. The Stretch 35 features a 25mm wide-angle lens, an f12 aperture and a 1/110th of a second shutter.

Enter and Win!

In this Guide you will find PRIZE DRAWING COUPON ENTRIES. We invite you to bring these entries with you on your next visit to downtown. Stop by participating businesses and drop them in the decorated entry boxes. Good Luck!

Yes, Virginia there is a Santa Claus

By The Associated Press

Yes, Virginia, there was an editorial about the credibility of Santa Claus, appearing more than 100 years ago in The New York Sun. It was written by Francis Pharcellus Church, an assistant to the paper's editor.

A true Christmas classic, it has outlived its writer, the recipient, and the newspaper that gave it life. Its most famous phrases are often recalled and sometimes parodied:

"We take pleasure in answering at once and thus prominently the communication below, expressing at the same time our great gratification that its faithful author is numbered among the friends of The Sun:

"Dear Editor:

"I am 8 years old. Some of my little friends say there is no Santa Claus. Papa says, 'If you see it in The Sun it's so.' Please tell me the truth, is there a Santa Claus?"

"Virginia Hanlon

"115 West 95th Street"

"Virginia, your little friends are wrong. They have been affected by the skepticism of a skeptical age. They do not believe except what they see. They think that nothing can be which is not comprehensible by their little minds. All minds, Virginia, whether they be men's or children's, are little. In this great universe of ours man is a mere insect, an ant, in his intellect, as compared with the boundless world around him, as measured by the intelligence capable of grasping the whole of truth and knowledge.

"Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus. He exists as certainly as love and generosity and devotion exist, and you know that they abound and give to your life its highest beauty and joy. Alas! how dreary would be the world if there were no Santa Claus! It would be as dreary as if there were no Virginias. There would no childlike faith then, no poetry, no romance to make tolerable this existence. We should have no enjoyment, except in sense and sight. The eternal light with which childhood fills the world would be extinguished.

"Not believe in Santa Claus! You might as well not believe in fairies! You might get your papa to summon to watch in all the chimney holes on Christmas eve to catch Santa Claus, but even if he did not see Santa Claus coming down, what would that prove? Nobody sees Santa Claus, but that is no sign that there is no Santa Claus. The most real things in the world are those that neither children nor men can see. Did you ever see fairies dancing on the lawn? Of course not, but that's no proof that they are not there. Nobody can conceive or imagine all the wonders there are unseen and unseeable in the world.

"You tear apart the baby's rattle and see what makes the noise inside, but there is a veil covering the unseen world which not the strongest man, not even the united strength of all the strongest men that ever lived could tear apart. Only faith, fancy, poetry, love, romance, can push aside that curtain and view and picture the supernal beauty and glory beyond. Is it all real? Ah, Virginia, in all this world there is nothing else real and abiding.

"No Santa Claus! Thank God he lives, and he lives forever. A thousand years from now, Virginia, nay, ten times ten thousand years from now, he will continue to make glad the heart of childhood."

Some stocking stuffers for the kids

By The Associated Press

Have a one-size-fits-all stocking hung up to hold some of these:

— Bow Bitters. Cartoon beasts that appear to be chewing shoelaces on your kid's sneakers are practical as well as trendy. Plastic faces of Garfield, the Muppets and Snoopy "bite" the shoelace knots and keep them from coming loose on the go. Bow Bitters also include original characters such as "The Masher," "Cat Zooks," and "Puppy Hearts." The maker, Brookside Enterprises, aims this product at the youth market but says adults have been using them on their sneakers, too. They cost about $4 to $5 a pair at toy and discount stores.

— Toy Racers. These battery-operated racing cars from Japan travel at speeds equivalent in scale to 300 miles per hour. Lightning Racers are about 5 inches long and are modeled after four-wheel-drive racing cars. They come with snap-together parts which the maker, MRC-Tamiya, says can be assembled in about an hour. The cars also can be customized, with 40 optional parts including special motors, wheels, gears, and ball bearings, all mimicking the real thing. Tamiya, Inc., a leading toy manufacturer in Japan, is offering four models to American customers — the Avante Jr., Rising Bird, Vanquish Jr. and Grasshopper II Jr. Cost is about $10 in toy, discount and department stores.

— Art Frames. That color marker portrait done by the young artist in your household will get proper attention with "My Frame," a kit which will enable him to have one-kid shows. Each kit contains a backing tray, clear plastic lens and snap-on moldings for a frame, six sheets of drawing paper, and a set of non-toxic color markers. The creator, Berdie Stein, says she wanted a way to display her young son's pictures, and when she couldn't find anything appropriate, came up with the idea for the kit. "I wanted to create something children could put together themselves," she says. "With this toy, they can frame their own artwork, then take it apart when they create a new masterpiece the next day." The kits are about $15 at toy and department stores.

— Sweet Pets. Sweetie Pups and Sweetie Kitties are soft toy puppies and kittens that resemble real breeds. These toys from Hasbro have long silky hair to be groomed and petted, and each comes with brush and comb, award ribbon barrette and fabric ribbon. Small pups are available as bearded collie, bichon frise, cocker spaniel, Maltese, schnauzer, Shih Tzu, toy poodle, and Yorkshire terrier breeds, and larger ones as Afghan, collie and old English sheepdog breeds. Breeds for kittens are Angora, Persian, Birman and long-hair tabby. Kittens are about $9, small pups about $10, and larger pups about $16.

— Holidays with Foreign Accents.

Videos of holiday tales in foreign languages from Gessler include "Babar et le Pere Noel," the tale of de Brunhoff's famous elephant looking for Father Christmas, "Noel a Paris," sights of the French capital at Christmastime, or "Christmas in Spain," chronicling the celebrations in Madrid, which include ceremonies at La Puerta del Sol and the Three Kings Cavalcade. Prices range from about $40 to $50.

— Clear Motives. "Go-Go Gears" from Playskool shows kids how gears mesh and turn in a collection of toy cars, trucks, planes or trains with transparent plastic casings and brightly colored moving parts. And each vehicle comes with its own driver or pilot. When the child presses the driver down into his seat, the vehicle moves forward. The "Go-Go" sets come in a small (about $6), medium ($10) and large ($15) assortments.

— From Lewis Galoob Toys: Micro Machines, a series of small cars, boats, planes, trains and trucks; there are 195 new ones in the 1989 collection. Galoob goes small with dolls, too: So Small Babies.

— Tupperware from Tupperware adds four new toys: Link-a-Lot, linkable toys in different rainbow-colored shapes; What's Inside, puzzle pieces of numbers or colors; Li'l Tupper characters fit in various settings, including a merry-go-round and a school bus; Tote-em-Pails, a stacking toy.

— New from Playskool are Busy Beads, with the largest version featuring Sesame Street characters, and Dressing Pretty, with six different dress-up play outfits. Bead sets range from about $20 to $37, and costumes begin at about $15, available in one size that fits 3-6X.

— Trusty is a shaggy-haired doll which comes with a backpack holding a story book, "Trusty Found," a pillow and a note pad. Created by Duane Benton, it has pocket ears to "hear" a child's secrets and is designed to help teach children problem-solving and self-reliance, according to the Trusty Doll Co., Kansas City, Mo.

— Mattel adds an electronic Powersword to its He-Man character line. The battery-operated sword, which also lights up, produces varying sounds depending on the hand motion.

— Hasbro's holiday product line includes Record Breakers, to-be-assembled miniature, battery-operated race cars; action planes called Flying Fighters, and two playsets, a sink and mirror vanity and hairstyles boutique for Maxie, the teen fashion doll. About $10 and $25 for the cars and planes and about $11 and $21 for the playsets.
